

What's a Third-Party Claim in a New York Construction Accident?

If you are hurt on the job,
you can't sue your direct employer or a coworker for damages,

but you can sue another company

– a third party – if they caused the accident.

→ Third parties on construction sites may include:

-  Property owner
-  General contractor
-  Subcontractor
-  Architect or engineer
-  Equipment manufacturer

A third-party personal injury claim can pay for damages

not covered by workers' comp,

such as:

-  Excess wage loss
-  Replacement services (e.g. maintenance or childcare)
-  Pain and suffering
-  Loss of consortium
-  Lost quality and enjoyment of life

When you're hurt on a construction site, know your legal rights.

Contact Keogh Crispi, P.C.
for a free and confidential consultation.

646-576-7963

